Fendt 210 P Vario

The Fendt 210 P Vario is equipped with the continuously variable Vario transmission, features the innovative FendtONE operating philosophy and is the first specialist tractor with a fully integrated terminal. The deciding factor was its positioning as a particularly reliable tractor, particularly suited to the requirements of a specialist field such as Spanish rural agriculture.

"With Fendt, we have the perfect tractor for vineyards, olive groves and orchards, which are characteristic and extremely important for Spanish agriculture. Although we have always excelled in large tractors, the Fendt 200 VFP Vario series and especially the Fendt 210 P Vario combine all the advantages and technologies know from our large tractors," said José Ramón González Casagrán (Business Manager Fendt Spain) after receiving the award. "We are particularly pleased to receive this award.
